Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quit

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The Claimant, Tajai Mylse, filed an appeal from the August 8, 2024 (reference 01), unemployment insurance, decision that denied benefits based upon the claimant's voluntary quit. The parties were properly notified about the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on September 5, 2024. Claimant, Tajai Myles, participated and testified. Employer participated through Jason Hawkins. No exhibits were offered or admitted. Official notice was taken of the claimant's administrative record.

ISSUES:

Did the claimant voluntarily quit without good cause attributable to the employer?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The claimant began working for this employer on June 17, 2024 as a full-time production operator. His immediate supervisor was Brian Hayes. The claimant last physically worked in the position on June 23, 2024.

The claimant's girlfriend needed to have surgery on her neck. The claimant wanted to take time off work to accompany her to her surgery. He first tried to request time off on the workday system. Jason Hawkins contacted the claimant that he should not use the workday app to request time off. Mr. Hawkins gave the claimant a different number to call to request time off. The claimant did not know how long he needed to be off work when he made the request. At the time he requested time off work, the claimant had only worked for this employer for two days and did not have any accrued leave available to use. Because of this, the claimant was not approved for any leave. Mr. Hawkins informed the claimant that his leave was not approved. The claimant did not report to work for three consecutive days (June 26, 2024, June 27, 2024 and June 28, 2024), he was removed from the employer's system as a voluntary quit.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant voluntarily quit his employment without good cause attributable to employer.

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) provides: An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, if the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

A voluntary quitting means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer and requires an intention to terminate the employment. Wills v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 447 N.W. 2d 137, 138 (Iowa 1989). A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980); Peck v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 492 N.W.2d 438 (Iowa Ct. App. 1992). Claimant has the burden of proving that the voluntary leaving was for good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code § 96.6(2). "Good cause" for leaving employment must be that which is reasonable to the average person, not the overly sensitive individual or the claimant in particular. Uniweld Products v. Indus. Relations Comm'n, 277 So.2d 827 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1973). Where a claim gives numerous reasons for leaving employment the agency is required to consider all stated reasons which might combine to give the claimant good cause to quit in determining any of those reasons constitute good cause attributable to the employer. Taylor v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 362 N.W.2d 534 (Iowa 1985).

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.25(4) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(4) The claimant was absent for three days without giving notice to employer in violation of company rule.

It is the duty of the administrative law judge, as the trier of fact, to determine the credibility of witnesses, weigh the evidence and decide the facts in issue. Arndt v. City of LeClaire, 728 N.W.2d 389, 394-395 (Iowa 2007). The administrative law judge may believe all, part or none of any witness's testimony. State v. Holtz, 548 N.W.2d 162, 163 (Iowa App. 1996). In assessing the credibility of witnesses, the administrative law judge should consider the evidence using his or her own observations, common sense and experience. Id. In determining the facts, and deciding what testimony to believe, the fact finder may consider the following factors: whether the testimony is reasonable and consistent with other evidence you believe; whether a witness has made inconsistent statements; the witness's appearance, conduct, age, intelligence, memory and knowledge of the facts; and the witness's interest in the trial, their motive, candor, bias and prejudice. Id.

The findings of fact show how I have resolved the disputed factual issues in this case. I assessed the credibility of the witnesses who testified during the hearing, considering the applicable factors listed above, and using my own common sense and experience. I find the claimant's testimony regarding his reasons for quitting to be inconsistent and less credible than the employer's testimony.

Claimant voluntarily quit his employment with this employer when he failed to report to work for three consecutive days without having approval to be off work. While the administrative law judge can empathize with the claimant for wanting to be at his girlfriend's surgery, he was never approved to take time off work. His failure to report to work for three consecutive days constitutes quitting work without good cause attributable to his employer. Claimant has not met his burden of proving he voluntarily quit his employment for good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The August 8, 2024 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is affirmed. Claimant voluntarily quit his employment on June 29, 2024 without good cause attributable to employer. Benefits are denied until claimant has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible.
