(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-2-a – Discharge
Section 96.3-7 – Overpayment

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The employer, Burger King, filed an appeal from a decision dated January 7, 2004, reference 01. The decision allowed benefits to the claimant, Kristofer Whennen. After due notice was issued a hearing was held by telephone conference call on February 3, 2004. The claimant participated on her own behalf. The employer participated by Director of Operations Kyle Stansberry.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having heard the testimony of the witnesses and having examined all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Kristofer Whennen was employed by Burger King from August 22, 2002 until December 6, 2003. He was a part-time kitchen worker.

Mr. Whennen received written warnings on December 23, 2002 and January 3, 2003, for work performance problems. On his yearly evaluation given on October 8, 2003, he was marked very low in the area of responding appropriately to authority.

On December 6, 2003, Director of Operations Kyle Stansberry was at the front counter when he heard the claimant shouting at Assistant Manager Tami Moore. Ms. Moore had asked him to leave the break room since he was not on break and Mr. Whennen yelled, "Why are you on my case? I have a headache, I was taking medicine." He continued to berate Ms. Moore and customers were able to hear this exchange. Mr. Stansberry left the counter and told the claimant he was not to act that way to any of the managers, and to return to his work station. As he did so the claimant muttered something under his breath and when asked to repeat it he said, "Fine! I'll go do my work!" in a hostile and petulant tone. He was discharged immediately.

Kyle Whennen has received unemployment benefits since filing a claim with an effective date of December 7, 2003.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue is whether the claimant is disqualified. The judge concludes he is.

Iowa Code Section 96.5-2-a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

871 IAC 24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979).

The claimant had been advised his job was in jeopardy as a result of his attitude and conduct. In spite of the warning he engaged in a loud and heated confrontation with a member of management who had only asked him to leave the break room and return to work. He was then insolent to the director of operations who gave him the same order. This is insubordination and is conduct not in the best interests of the employer. The claimant is disqualified.

Iowa Code Section 96.3-7 provides:

7. Recovery of overpayment of benefits. If an individual receives benefits for which the individual is subsequently determined to be ineligible, even though the individual acts in good faith and is not otherwise at fault, the benefits shall be recovered. The department in its discretion may recover the overpayment of benefits either by having a sum equal to the overpayment deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual or by having the individual pay to the department a sum equal to the overpayment.

If the department determines that an overpayment has been made, the charge for the overpayment against the employer's account shall be removed and the account shall be credited with an amount equal to the overpayment from the unemployment compensation trust fund and this credit shall include both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The claimant has received unemployment benefits to which he is not entitled. These must be recovered in accordance with the provisions of Iowa law.

DECISION:

The representative's decision of January 7, 2004, reference 01, is reversed. Kristofer Whennen is disqualified and benefits are withheld until he has earned ten times his weekly benefit amount provided he is otherwise eligible. He is overpaid in the amount of $470.00.
